

Free 4 card reading

As promised we are about to conduct one of the biggest card readings we have ever done - we have done this via the guidance of our admin guides... so here goes...

As you may or may not know the best readings come with an exchange of energy, therefore before you select your cards I would like you to find 30 mins in your day and go for a walk or at least 10 mins and stand out side... the longer you walk and breath and relax the better for you.... This is called the "awareness walk"

Simple relax before you go out by either meditating or deep breathing and then simple step out your door and into nature if you can..... walk slow and look, really look... feel... really feel, try not think not to even ponder – just look - make yourself notice the small stuff.... the flowers, the bees, the trees, the colours, the smells (take photos if you wish) - you will be amazed how much small beautiful stuff is all around you.. the more you become aware the more you will see and the closer your guides can get to you.

When you come back look at the photo I have just posted and think about your current issue and then select 4 cards - simple type up the 4 numbers of the cards you have selected in the order you have selected them.

Blessing Tee xx

PS for anyone whom is an old hand here - you will see the 1 and 4s coming up again - 11 days since the famous 14.14 on 14.4.14.... so yes 4 readers with 4 decks and 11 cards each... this is going to be fun if not a little mad xxxx

Listed below you will find the meanings for the above cards - this is the first time we have done this with 4 different decks and 4 different readers - so please do ask if you do not understand something.

To read all you need to do is think back to your question or most pressing issue (Please bear in mind that you may think something is the most pressing issue ie love. But spirit may feel you need a message about another issue ie money - this can happen if you are trying to push an issue to one side)

Now look up the meanings to your cards:

Your first card - Is your past regarding this issue - this will show clearly what the issue the reading is about and what happened in the past to lead you here.

Your second card - will show you where you are right now with regards to this issue.

Your third card - will show you the bridge you need to be aware of - its the next part of the issue coming to light in the future - you have control over this so you may change the course of action if you wish - but card 3 will happen if you do not make the changes - of which there may be none.

Your fourth card - is the outcome to the issue should you take no action from card 3.

1 Have Courage

There are times when you feel small, afraid, and alone in the world but you are not alone. You are watched over and cherished by Gaia and the Great Spirit. Know that you have the strength to overcome all obstacles placed in your path no matter how daunting or large they may seem. Have courage. Now is the time to trust in yourself and have confidence that you will overcome all.

2 See The Signs

We are often sent small signs in the form of synchronicities and coincidences. Be watchful. Do not overlook them in the everyday rush of life. Words, numbers, symbols that repeat, animals and birds that appear in your path, people who come in and out of your life at odd or similar moments, and those flashes of knowing when you believe something will happen with every fiber of your being....these are all things you are MEANT to see and hear; messages from Gaia and Great Spirit sent to aid in your journey.

3 Respect Your Boundaries

Others will not respect the emotional boundaries you have set within your relationships if you do not respect them yourself. Know yourself. Love yourself. If you do not afford yourself with the same care you desire from others, then you will not be shown care. If you do not honour your own truths and dreams no one else will. Honour yourself by treating yourself with the same care, and in the same manner, that you wish others to treat you.

4 Time To Ground

We all experience moments in our lives when we feel confused, unfocused and surrounded by chaos and turmoil. These moments are often unavoidable, as are the lessons these moments can impart. But how you respond to them is a choice only you can make. Take a deep breath and a moment to pause and reconnect with Gaia and nature. Seek the silence of the void within whilst your spirit spirals downward to anchor itself like an ancient tree root in the cleansing embrace of the Earth beneath you.

5 Need and Necessity

Night and day exist within the very same moment. Creation and destruction wear the same face. You only see one or the other because you are not seeing the whole. What you may see as harmful, another may believe to be good. All is based on perception. In nature, all occurs according to need and necessity not right or wrong. Ask yourself-Is there a genuine need to act? Is change necessary for your continued well being and happiness? If the answer is yes, then act. If the answer is no, then do not.

6 Make The Sacrifice

You will not achieve the outcome you desire if you are unwilling to act upon your intentions. It is as simple as wanting something to happen, or believing it will happen. You have to make it happen, and to make it happen requires that you be willing to do whatever is necessary no matter the sacrifice, For everything you desire, you must give of yourself in return.

7 A New Day Dawns

Today is a new day. With the dawn comes an opportunity to begin again or to embrace something new. Create what you wish to create. Become the person who you dream of being. Do not allow your doubts or fears to hold you back, for this day is bright with hope and good fortune. Go forth and greet it with a smile upon your lips and joy inside your heart.

8 Reveal Your Truth

When you were born your soul shone bright. As you grew, you were taught of right and wrong. You were taught how to think, how to live, how to believe in a way that makes you fearful to say no. To disagree is to risk alienation from family and society, and so you hide your true thoughts and feelings behind a mask. That hides your light! Cast it aside. Embrace and live your truth, and let your soul shine bright once more.

9 You Were Born To Create

You were blessed with the ability to create with thought, intention, action, and emotion. Be conscious of your power and aware of what your actions and reactions create within and around you. Cherish this gift and use it in both a wise and productive manner. Create beauty, and inspire a desire within others to do the same. Create a future that both fulfills and delights. Do what you were born to do!

10 Hear The Ancient Ones

The indigenous people of the world are those who have lived in harmony with the land for countless generations. Among them are the elders whose knowledge and wisdom can teach us of our relationship with nature, of living a life of empathic awareness, and to better understand our roles as caretakers of the Earth. They can teach us the wisdom of taking only what we need, of wasting little, and of honoring all sacrifices made so that you may live and grow. Hear the Ancient Ones; learn from their knowledge, lore, and traditions.

11 Embrace Spirit

You are a spiritual being, living a physical life. Embrace spirit in your journey and reaffirm your connection with the Divine. Fly to the Heavens, but remember to look down and see that the Divine exists in the magical, natural world beneath you. Spirit dwells within all-in everything you see and know, and everything that you do not see and which is unknown. Both the creative and the destructive, the beautiful and the ugly, are all born of the Divine.

12 - The Alchemist

This card symbolizes a transformation of sorts. It is a combination of two opposites like male and female, fire and water. It could be that you are struggling between two situations trying to blend them together to work for you. Nothing is without risk and if you choose to blend obstacles that you are struggling with it can change into something else that can serve you better.

13 – The Tower

This card reminds me of isolation of sorts but a chance to change and stand tall when other forces are at your door. It has an advantage point of being able to view from a higher perspective which could mean to listen to your inner guidance on what to do. You are not in control of the outside influences but can prepare and stay safe when the world is at odds.

14 – The Hanged Man

This card shows me that your world could be upside down at the present moment. The picture on the wall is an exact replica of what your world is. However, it can also symbolize as a reminder that what was once is not that way any longer. The man although alone cares for two birds which could be something or someone that you are burdened or responsible for but still care for it as a sense of duty.

15 – Three of Swords

This card represents affairs of the heart. You could have a situation that is painful as there are storm clouds in the background and three piercings in your heart. There is a darkened sky but the clouds show a white aura around it. This could mean that although times are rough and it will pass. You will heal as a result of hurts.

16 – Six of Swords

This card represent for me represents taking care of people or situations and guiding them along. The two passengers are fixed on something that is not in front of them which for me means they are not taking an active part in their journey. The swords also make me feel like a barrier or protective field that keeps those under your guidance under control. It can also represent smooth sailing when someone else steers the boat.

17 – Four of Wands

This card represents partnerships. You could be entering a relationship that involves courting. There is a politeness and respect that will occur. It can take a lot of work and effort to make it successful but the foundation has been set. There are 4 torches that represent the 4 directions of possibilities as well as the points in the circle. Cultivate the completeness .

18 - The Empress

This is a wonderful card to have pulled. It shows that things are growing and nurturing. The butterflies are present which symbolize transformation. She looks deeply into the bowl in which she can create anything she wishes as everything she touches becomes alive with vibrancy. Take this time to nurture you own desires and passions and breathe new life into things that are stagnate.

19 – Strength

This card shows that you can draw infinite strength. It comes at a time when you need to draw courage and bravery. She compassionately tames any situation seeing beyond the physical demeanor. This is also showing that some animals (or situations)feed on fear which can hold you back. She shows her tenacity and control by refusing to display and vulnerability. There is always an element of risk when you decide to take control and not allow your power to be taken. Be prepared for the fallout and reactions of others as a result of your decisions.

20 – Four of Pentacles

This card shows you that it is time to protect your assets whether physical or of the heart. The chair is too big at the moment but in time you will grow into it if you invest wisely in your own worth. It could also begin a phase of isolation as money currently defines the worth of a person. It also can represent too much concern with physical possessions, a tendency to hold on to things even at the expense of your discomfort.

21 – Ten of swords

This card represents a metaphoric meaning of backstabbing and overkill. It symbolizes loss of friendships, breakdown of relationships. It does NOT mean a physical impalement. Each sword might be a buildup from others comments or remarks over a period of time that have hurt you. It might feel that way as there is no perspective at the moment but there is always light in the other direction to help guide you.

22 - The Hermit

This card represents a time of going within, to seek knowledge and peace. It is self reflection but also as desire to understand the unexplained. It is when you get that nagging feeling that something needs further explanation such as why the same things keep happening. It is a way for your own guidance to lead you on your journey.

23. Wheel of Fortune

This card signifies a new chapter is about to begin in your life in which there is a potential change in fortune as a result of lessons learned, as represented by the four winged beings with books in their hands. This card can represent your good karma and reaping your rewards. The wheel always turns full circle, and for now you are on the right track. Each turn of the wheel is like a new start, and a time for accepting responsibility for life rather than blaming fate.

WHEEL of FORTUNE.

THE TOWER.

THE SUN.

THE EMPEROR.

TEMPERANCE.

THE WORLD.

THE HIGH PRIESTESS.

THE MAGICIAN.

THE HANGED MAN.

DEATH.

THE LOVERS.

24. The Tower

Serves as a metaphor for the self built structure of our lives. Just as the lightning strike hits The Tower and causes turmoil and ruin as it uncontrollably burns, so too our lives at times may suddenly be turned upside down. As difficult as it is to endure this type of drastic change, the breaking down of self imposed structures, such as a very boring job, restrictive behavioral patterns, unfulfilling relationships, restrictive opinions or attitudes, etc., clears the way ahead for greater happiness, growth and for something dormant to spring to life! This can feel scary as it may require a great leap of faith to be free of things that no longer serve us. The message of the Tower is to challenge complacency, ultimately even if change is not sought we must always evaluate the need, and consider the new visions and possibilities as represented by the lightning.

25. The Moon

Unlike the dark and shadowy time of The Moon card, The Sun represents light, brightness, joy - a time of optimism, success and well being. A wonderful card, an omen for good health, success in career, praise, recognition or being the center of attention, and a positive sign for relationships!

26. The Emperor

He represents the power of authority, material wealth and leadership. With his masculine influence The Emperor in a reading can indicate that the time is right to pay attention to the material things in life. While the Empress nourishes the Emperor is the great protector. As seen by his long gray beard he represents wisdom. He is levelheaded with strong principles and values. The appearance of The Emperor tells us that logic may be needed instead of an intuitive or an emotional response to a situation you may be dealing with. This could be a good time for starting new projects a business or buying property, or an important person may enter your life with these qualities and have a significant influence on you.

27. When Temperance

When she appears in the reading it suggests a time for moderation and balance - a lack of excess. This card calls for "right action", which sometimes can mean no action should be taken if that is the right action. Patience is needed, as this is a time for assessment, calmness and thoughtfully weighed decisions as relationships prosper when both parties work together for the good of the whole. when there is a mutual desire for connection and learning each other's language the relationship, business or personal, grows. As the water flows equally from cup to cup so relationships are positively enhanced by the sharing of feelings as represented by the water which stands for our emotional lives.

28. The World

As the final card of the major arcana The World represents completion, a time of celebration, happy occasions, finished work or something that has been made whole. It is a time of achievement. A card of fulfillment, this is like a peak experience, such as reaching the top of a mountain! Just as much as this is a card of endings, this is also a part of new beginnings. Success is not about stopping something but about moving on and moving up finding new experiences. The World card shows us that the world truly is our oyster and in moving forward we know that we have the ability to live life to the fullest, and in that, we are again reborn as The Fool in a never ending journey.

29. The High Priestess

She is a card that represents secrets, that which is hidden in the power of spiritual wisdom. We see in her white robes the potential for unrealized creative expression. Ruling in the shadowy world of the unconscious mind and imagination she represents the gestation of the creative process. Just as a fetus must remain in the womb until the time is right so too must we allow our creative ideas to grow. When she appears in a reading it suggests a need to consult the intuitive mind rather than the rational mind. The mysterious world of the high priestess deals with dreams and intuition. Her spiritual wisdom allows her to heal and guide. She can represent someone who supports us as would a modern-day healer, reader or therapist, or she may represent these qualities in ourselves. As the feminine power in all of us, she inspires us to look at the world differently. In listening to the inner thoughts, and being still, answers and insights can be found.

30. The Magician

This card represents opportunities in all areas of life, a choice of directions...as you can see in the card, on the table before him are representations of the four suits in the Tarot. There is a pentacle which connects to the material, the body, our senses and physical world (earth), a sword which connects to the rational mind and logic, our intellect and ideas (air), a cup connected to relationships and the world of feelings and emotional responses (water), and a wand which is a symbol for creativity in all forms, our energy and initiative (fire). One hand pointing up to the heavens one hand pointing down to the earth, he is the bridge between these worlds, linking the conscious and the unconscious mind. The Magician brings confidence and possibilities for relationships and situations, and begs the question...do I need to make changes in any of these four areas in order to transform a relationship or situation? The Magician shows us that all resources are available to us, and we must become aware of them in order to use them to our best advantage.

31. The Hanged Man

He voluntarily hangs from the tree in suspended animation, while involved in quiet contemplation. While this sort of immobility would be difficult for many to endure the Hanged Man teaches us that this type of time out need not be an unbearable ordeal. This upside down haloed man does not appear to be in distress, or in a state of struggle. When things are not working out in our lives, a new perspective, or spiritual insight can shift how we see things, allowing us to clear out and unburden ourselves of the things that may be holding us back, or that keep us from acceptance. The Hanged Man is urging a period of slowing down, and asks us to understand that our sacrifices in the short term can improve our lives in the long run.

32. Death

Just as winter gives way to the beauty and wonder of the new life in spring, so does The Death card represent transformation from one state to another. This card is a symbol for something that is on its way out such as a stagnant job situation, an unhealthy relationship, or some outdated ideals, or even something like leaving home for the first time. We are being shown that something has outlived its usefulness or is coming to a natural end. This card helps us to understand the necessity of clearing out the old to clear the way for new growth, for rebirth. Change can be difficult, and it can be hard to let go, and this card can point to all those feelings change can bring...as in a time of regret, despair, grief or trauma, however change for the higher good is the eventual outcome, for without change there is stagnation. As we are going through the process it can feel as if our lives are in turmoil, and it may be awhile before we can lift our heads up and see the silver lining, and become aware of the relief acceptance can bring, or understand how much we grew or how much good came as a result.

33. The Lovers card

This is a card of love, partnership and choice. It can point to powerful physical attractions. It encourages us to weigh our options. It can point to relationships in which there can be a strong mutual attraction, but is not limited to love affairs of the heart. However, the situation in question will have great personal relevance when this card appears in a reading. This card depicts Adam and Eve being given their choice by God. The suggestion of this card can be to consider if your choice is being too heavily weighted by your desires, rather than what may be good for you, or what is for the best. This card reminds us of the strong link between desire, passion and love. It can be a good omen for new relationships.

Sonya

"I bring you a message from your deceased loved one. I am happy, at peace, and I love you very much. Please don't worry about me."

Aurora

"You are flying high right now, which may threaten others. But don't descend, because others will soon become inspired by your example."

Fiona

"Now that you've asked the angels for help, be open to receiving Divine guidance and assistance. You deserve Heaven's help!"

Crystal

"Have faith and hope, because there is something positive and new on the horizon that you can't yet see."

Rochelle

"As you honor and follow the guidance of your heart, prosperity is coming to you now."

Serena

"I am the Angel of Abundance. You will receive the money that you need, and God is in charge of how that will happen. Have faith."

Archangel Gabrielle

"You have an important purpose involving spirituality and the Law. Please don't allow distractions to hold you back. I will help you."

Maya

"Schooling, study, and education help your life's purpose and personal growth at this time. The angels will guide you and help you with this process."

Opal

"Your children on Earth and in Heaven are happy and well cared for by God and the angels."

Adriana

"I am leading you toward the answer to your prayers. Please listen to and follow the steps I am communicating through your intuition, thoughts, and dreams."

Archangel Uriel

"Your emotions are healing, which enables you to open to greater love. I will help you release anger and unforgiveness from your heart and mind."

34) I am Sonya

The guardian Angel of your deceased love one and I want you to know there is no reason for worry.. there is no anger or upset directed toward you, only love and understanding dear one! Message from your love one I am happy and at peace..you have done nothing wrong please don't blame yourself. Your love one has made it through transition beautifully.. they have spiritually connected with you in your dreams as well as through feelings, hearing, smelling or seeing your loved ones essence.

35) Aurora

Your intentions have created an upward spiral into your life bringing new opportunities.. your inner and outer self radiates this positive growth! You may worry others will be jealous of your current and forthcoming success and you may hold back about discussing you're achievements, soon all will see your light and it can only inspire them! You may also be worrying about your future please do not worry! Live in the moment and trusted each moment is taken care of.. and it is so!

36) Fiona

God and the angel have heard your prayers for divine guidance and assistance! I am here to ask you to be more open to our help as we see you struggle with situations that can easily be dissolved with our help..Please allow us to do our work! You are very deserving as all God's children and at times you block us, I need you to trust in my guidance that I give you please notice the strong repetitive impressions that comes to you through your thoughts, feelings and visions it is I guiding you there!

37) Crystal

The seeds that you have planted are beginning to sprout results that you may not be aware of yet.. please rest assure as they are in their infancy and need more growth! In this card the beautiful angel is standing in a field.. hands-on heart as she feeds her seeds with visions of compassion, desire and positive direction in a way to help them grow! It is very important to stay positive at this time and avoid skeptics with a negative mindset.. daily affirming and baby steps will indeed bring you your heart's desire!

38) Rochelle

As you honor and follow the guidance of your heart prosperity is coming to you now! Heaven supports you and has heard your prayers for financial help.. be assured that we see money as a symbol of the abundance that God provides for all of his children, in heaven we see money as an exchange. The Earthly negative surrounding money comes from human minds alone.. your financial needs have been blocked in the past because of guilt and other negative beliefs and emotions! I have helped you to heal and release much of the negative you hold towards money! The more you allow me to give the more you can give to others please allow me to help you more!

39) Serena

The angel of abundance. You will receive the money that you need and God is in charge of how that's going to happen.. please keep the faith! Release all your cares and worries to me as it is I whom will bring them directly to God. The more you surrender to the situation the more open you become, like outstretched arms welcome the gifts that we bring you.. your financial support will come in unexpected ways! One of the reasons why you worried is because you don't know how your money will be delivered, you may release those worries by completely trusting on God's wisdom and care. Noticed your repetitive thoughts feelings and ideas, they are our way of communicating divine guidance to you! As you follow this your supply comes to you on the wings of the angels.. the more you can relax and trust the faster we can bring these gifts to you.. it is so

40) Archangel Gabriel

You have an important life purpose involving communication and the arts. Please do not allow insecurities to hold you back.. I am with you as one of your guardian angels, I will help you polish and trust your natural talents in a way so you can help others! What I need in return is honesty and cooperation, share with me your fears, hopes, confusion, insecurities and your dreams ask me to help you! Walk through the doors that I have opened for you, I am on your side completely and my function is to be your coach.. please know that I am only pushing because I know you need a little boost from above!

41) Maya

I strongly recommend that you continue with your education as the additional and experience will accelerate the fruition to your life purpose! Don't worry about going forward with the schooling, I want to assure you that everything will be provided for you along the way. This process brings you great rewards and enriches your understanding in your spiritual power and your motivation towards your life purpose! I am guiding you two teachers, schools, funds, schedules and all of resources that are available to you now.

42) Opal

Your worries about your children has been received as prayers in heaven! We understand your concerns and we surround the souls and bodies of your children with our loving care.. this is the time to release to God and know that the Creator is there true parent! God is pure love without judgement or anger and he will never abandon you or your children - nor would he want to! As one of your children's guardian angels I watch over them constantly. I see their true perfection, goodness and their innocence, I asked that you see your children through my eyes which will help their love and light to be fully expressed! I love you I love your children and your children love you..

43) Adriana

On this beautiful card is a gorgeous angel on her right side is all cloudy as she reaches her hand out being the light guiding you into the beautiful calm night on the other side..We have heard your prayers and we are glad you asked for help.. as you know we can only help if you request for assistance. Please be aware of the guidance that we send you.. the way that we angels answer your prayers is by giving you guidance that will lead you to take the steps to your higher self's will. It is I that sends you petitive thoughts feelings and auditory messages urging you to take action or make changes! I will make sure your safe while you follow my divine guidance. Together we will work to co-create your answered prayers!

44) Archangel Urie

I am called the :Psychologist Angel because I help to heal toxins from people's thoughts and emotions. I am especially able to release stubborn anger and unforgiveness.. I am with you right now to clear away such toxins. I would also like to work with you to help others clear away their emotional and psychological blocks! I will never force it in any way, like you, I believe it is best to wait until someone approaches me directly and request this guidance and assistance! Then I simply and lovingly ask them to be willing to release the toxins from their mind and heart. Only if they are willing to can this release occur, in doing so will pull one's vibration up and ensure that you are clear of any lower energies!